

Tyrone#4532 2017-08-06

The reasoning: Any general attendee who isn't coming as part of Antifa is going to be considered a 'Racist Nazi' by Antifa or any affiliate. It wouldn't be hard for an Antifa type to register as Uber and something could happen. That's worst case. Uber/taxi could just refuse to service to anyone asking for transport to that area.

Tyrone#4532 2017-08-06

I will do so. The chatter in the #shuttle channel reflected a view that after seeing the video, we had no game plan for transport.

Tyrone#4532 2017-08-06

I know better than to think that was your intent, but we are dealing with some people without a grasp of the more subtle parts of our language.

MadDimension#8652 2017-08-06

People are naturally anxious. Keep them in line and assure them everything is fine.

MadDimension#8652 2017-09-05

Did you end up making it to Charlottesville?

Deleted User 8c659750 2017-09-05

I did not.

Deleted User 8c659750 2017-09-05

My wife got home from the hospital on 8/10 and staying married is pretty high on my priorities list for helping the 14 words.

Deleted User 8c659750 2017-09-05

Part of the reason I'm interested in the AAR is to see the thoughts flowing from those who were there.